

SUMMER WORKSHOPS

for High School Students

Developing the life skills of being a clear and confident communicator regardless of the situation and setting is the foundation of a great future

Join us for summer workshops where Matt Crevin, Founder of Talk Shop, will deliver his programs that motivate, influence, and empower today's students to become strong communicators.

Wednesday's and Sunday's at 4pm PT; June through August- For more info, e-mail: matt@talkshop.com

Is there a 21st century skill more important than the ability to effectively communicate face to face?

Effective communication skills to boost academic results, to improve conversations at home, in relationships, with admissions officers, as part of a job interview process and more!

60 min workshops for teams, community groups or set of friends.

15 students max per session
